Falling in Love

February 2007

Dear Partner,

I pray this letter finds you excited about the best year of your life thus far.

The Lord woke me up around 4:00am on a weekday morning and told me to write to His people about falling in love with Him all over again. One song writer said that falling in love with Jesus was the best thing he had ever done. I can certainly attest to that. I remember when I was in the midst of the worst sins and how God reached out to me with His enduring love. No matter what I did, I just could not get away from it. And later, I surrendered my life over to Him and we began a love relationship that has lasted for years. I love Jesus more now than I did in the beginning. There have been some bumps in the road from time to time, but through it all, the Lord has been good and He will continue to be faithful. When you look back over your life, you'll realize that God has truly been there with you as well.

In the book of Philippians 4:11-12, the Apostle Paul talked about learning to be content in every situation. He also knew how to abase and abound. In other words, he recognized that as a Christian we must be flexible and we must understand how to trust in our relationship with God. You see, faith will take you far but your trust in God will get you over the top.

Loving God is like being in a great marriage. You work on developing the relationship daily and it gets better with time. Instead of allowing time to be your enemy and distance you, you allow time to be your friend and embrace it with patience. In other words, if something hasn't happened in the timeframe that you thought, don't get bitter towards God. Instead learn how to wait on Him. Because your relationship is not based on time or what He does for you, it's based on your love and trust and desire to please Him.

Trust is an entirely different level in a relationship. Without trust, you do not have much. But with trust you have all the assurance and confidence needed until your change comes. After all, God is open 24 hours a day and you never get a recording. He is always there. He is ready and available to talk with you and to spend quality time with you. He is never in a bad mood. He never tells you to take a number or to get in line. He never reminds you of your past or shortcomings. Nothing that you've done catches Him by surprise. He is always ready to love you, correct you and help you get back on the right track. Can people say that about you? I realize that we are not God, but when people encounter us, they should encounter Him! After all, the Holy Spirit lives in us. But just because He lives in us doesn't mean that He is allowed to work through us. We are responsible for allowing God to work through us. God is ready for a closer, more intimate, ever-increasing relationship with His children. He longs to spend quality time with you! David said in Psalm 42:1 As the hart (deer) panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God. David was saying that my thirst and desire for the presence of God far outweighs anything that this life has to offer, My prayer is that God's people will begin to fall in love with Jesus all over again.

1. Dedicate time to spend with God everyday.
2. Ask God to create a hunger and thirst in you that only He can quench. (Allow Him to be your spiritual Gatorade.)
3. Dedicate quality time with your family. (Next to God, they are the most important.)

Loving Him More,

A Word from the Lord

Tell My people that I am soon to come and My desire in these last days is to fill up my kingdom. But my people have to get back to genuinely loving me with all their heart, soul and strength. When they commit themselves fully to Me, they'll begin to live the life that they have always imagined. Some listen every week but they don't really believe. As they fully commit themselves to Me and My plan for their lives, I'll do exceeding, abundantly, above all they can ask or think on a regular basis. I want them to live in the blessing. The blessing is not designed to walk in every now and then, it's designed to be a place where my people constantly live in. Man was designed to live out of his spirit. When men begin to master being obedient to My voice, living the blessed life will began to be a normal way to live. Lack will be a thing of the past. Live life full of Me and you'll be the greatest harvest for all to see, you'll live out of the blessing.

It will manifest everywhere, all of the time like it was intended in the beginning. Many times the blessing is blocked by sin, disobedience, lack of knowledge and being filled with too much of the world that My voice is only in the background instead of being in the forefront where I can lead you. Tell my people to get back to Me and they'll walk in the blessing on a constant basis so that it will be normal to walk in success and victory. Lack will be a thing of the past, shortage a thing of the past, and harvest will be a normal thing in the lives of My people.

I greatly desire for them to walk in the blessing, but they must cooperate with My spirit and fellowship with Me until they are filled with Me and they'll live in the blessing. In order to live in the overflow, you must be overflowing!! All the time you'll be saying, "This is the result of the blessing of the Lord." It will be My joy to see My children walk in this kind of abundance the way that I originally intended for man to walk in!
